

Battle of the Books NBG Oberstufe

This popular and exciting reading competition gives students the opportunity to discover English language literature and compete as part of a team against other schools of all types, from all over the region of Bavaria. This is a great way for students to gain confidence reading in English, work together as a team, and experience the excitement of being the first to buzz and answer questions about their books!

Requirements:

The reading list is targeted for students in grade 10 and higher

- At least 10 participants per team
(Teams can consist of students from more than one class and/or grade level)
- Participation should be voluntary
- There are 10 books on the reading list
- Each participant needs to read at least one book
- Teams will have a chance to meet with representatives from the DAI to talk about the books they are reading
- The Battle takes place in February – once the exact date is announced, registered teams need to reserve that date with their school and teams!
- During the Battle teams will compete to answer questions about all 10 books. Questions and Answers are all given in English!

The DAI provides the following:

- One copy of each book (to be returned at the Battle in February)
- Team meeting via Skype or at the DAI, with a native English speaker, to discuss the books and the rules for the Battle
- Organization of the competition, Battle venue, and prizes.
